FETED AT GOING AWAY PARTY

Friends, classmates and relatives feted Manuel Fredrick Tavares with a going away party prior to his departure to California. Mr. Tavares will commence his freshman year at Monterey Peninsula College at Monterey.

The party was held at the Portuguese-American Club, Marion, with Robert Alves, Gracia Hillman and Betty Jean Andrade, all of Mattapoisett, hosts for the occasion. Mr. Tavares received many gifts including a purse of money. Dancing concluded the party festivities.

The guest of honor will reside with Mrs. William Owens, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tavares, Fredrick's parents.

Among special guests at the party were his parents and sister, Joanne; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tavares of Rochester, aunt and uncle of Fredrick; an uncle, John Alves of Mattapoisett. The honored guest is a 1964 graduate of Old Rochester Regional High School. Many of his classmates attended the party.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION MEETING

Propagation of the alewive was explained to members of the Conservation Commission of Rochester by Frederick C. Wilbour, director of Marine Fisheries, at a meeting held in the Rochester Town Hall. Mr. Wilbour said calling alewives herring is a misnomer for the true herring spends his life in salt water. The alewive spends his life in the ocean until time to spawn and then he travels to fresh water.

A fish ladder will be built at Snipatuit Pond near the property of Julien Weigel to facilitate easier traveling of the alewive to and from Snipatuit Pond. The money was appropriated for this purpose at a special Town Meeting held in April. The work will be done by Marine Fisheries personnel in charge of building fish ladders. Work is slated to commence shortly Mr. Wilbour informed the Conservation Commission members.

Discussed with Mr. Wilbour was enforcement of alewive rules and regulations as agreed upon by the towns of Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester annually. The Marine Fisheries Director informed members what steps can be taken if the rules are broken by the herring inspector of any of the three towns.

In other business commission members discussed the request of the Marion Water Commissioners to search for additional water sources in Rochester. A guest at the Conservation Commission was Henry B. Smith, chairman of the local Water Study Commission, who advised the commission information gathered to date by the study commission. Members on the Water Study Commission, in addition to Mr. Smith, include Willard K. Langill and Douglas H. Church.

Presiding at the Conservation Commission was Ralph L. Rounseville, chairman. Members include Mrs. Joseph A. Chamberlain, ate member to cover their committee work, if obliged to be away during campaigns. He stressed working hard for the entire Republican ticket, and believes members unwilling to give such support should resign.

A report of the Voter Survey was given by chairman of that committee, Mrs. Ellen Heuston. Several meetings to set it up have been held with Chairman Paull, Vice-chairman, Mrs. Edna L. Borden, and Mrs. Ann Francis, Finance chairman.

Mrs. Kathryn Ellis Nowak reported on the formation of "Women for Goldwater Committee," with a starting membership of 100. She invited any women present to join. There will be a chairman for each of the area towns. About 60 attended the organization meeting, held at her home recently.

activities instill a strong brand of school spirit and tend to be definite morale boosters. Anything we can do to promote sports is our responsibility in combating juvenile delinquency, not necessarily within our family, but in the community as a whole, not to mention the selfish reason in the pleasure and kick we get out of sports and our sense of school pride. This is good--win or lose--certainly from an adult point of view.

The Boosters believe that any parent having the opportunity to observe a practice session will be very proud of their son and of the other boys on the team for placing themselves in a position of being disciplined. Disciplined in taking practice for several hours of the day and having to follow hard rules and regulations set up by the schools and their coaches. The boys are learning the lessons of everyday life with its disappointments and discouragements but being able to come back stronger and overcome the obstacles.

If we face the fact that our children are only on loan to us through High School - then close contact is lost through college, work or marriage - how can we ignore the Boosters Club as a medium through which a close family relationship is established and a program beneficial to all youngsters is given an assist.

If you are a sports enthusiast, if you are a parent interested in your school, why not take this important time from your busy schedule and no matter what type of job you hold attend our Boosters Club meetings. We welcome all ideas and suggestions that will make our club more worthwhile. Are you a Rooster that crows or a Booster that boosts?

LAKEVILLE HOSPITAL DEDICATION

Dedication exercises for the new Lakeville Hospital in Lakeville are scheduled for Wednesday, September 30 at 2 P.M. The announcement was made by Dr. Alfred L. Frechette, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health.

Among the expected 400 invited guests are Governor Endicott Peabody, and former Governors, John A. Volpe and Foster Furcolo.

The new 300-bed hospital replaces the one-story wood frame buildings of 1910, originally designed to care for the treatment of tuberculosis patients only.

Declining tuberculosis rates has resulted in less demand for such facilities. Lakeville Hospital now is equipped to care for and rehabilitate children and adults with chronic diseases.

Planned tours, following dedication, will acquaint guests with the six-million dollar complex of hospital and district health office.

Dr. George L. Parker, hospital superintendent, said that other hospital tours for medical and paramedical groups are scheduled for the very near future.

POST CARD SHOW

The Mattapoisett Historical Society was crowded on Thursday evening for Mr. Charles Mendell's show of old Mattapoisett postcards. A magic lantern of the latest model and screen which were loaned by the school department enabled the postcards to be blown up in excellent detail. Most of the scenes were taken at the turn of the century and were shown in a sequence that made them all the more interesting. Using the trolley car line as a means of connecting the views, Mr. Mendell started at Lincoln Park with the old open trolley. The Fair-haven bridge was shown in its earliest form and the present bridge as it was when new. The trolley then proceeded to the Herring Weir for some shots of the early bridge and surrounding buildings which have long since disappeared. It was interesting to notice that the herring net might well be the one in use this Spring and the catching shed has changed very little also. Next on the line was the old Railroad Station which was across from the American Legion Hall and was quite an imposing structure complete with taxis and buggies. The town of Mattapoisett was covered very well in many views that were most interesting to compare with the town today. In most cases the homes of the town have undergone a vast improvement but in the interval the trees have been ruined and this change is regrettable. Once a solid arch of elms towered over every street in town. Water Street was shown in great detail from shots of the wharf to street scenes. Many buildings and homes are now missing such as the Stackpole home, the Mattapoisett House which was a most impressive hotel, Purrington Hall of which only a corner was shown and the old sail loft which was demolished in the 1938 hurricane. Some views of the Bathing Beach showed the two rows of old bathhouses and the round beach house which stood in the center area. The whole beach at that time (before 1938) was a little wider that the present beach building.

Some views of Ned's Point Light showed the keeper's home attached and the Hamlin mansion next door.

It was a very interesting and remarkably complete tour of the village and the water front all by postcard and the commentary of Mr. Mendell. Because of the very successful method of showing the cards and the interest which resulted in the large audience, it was suggested that a second showing might be in order. Anyone who missed this session will want to watch for the next for it will be most absorbing entertainment.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART
by Morris Fishbein, M. D.
Medical Editor and Author

Conditions affecting the heart and the circulation are listed as causes of death of more than 950,000 Americans of all ages every year - which is more than all other causes of death combined. Our industries particularly suffer heavily by the deaths of experienced workers - men and women between 45 and 65 years of age. Three out of every five deaths among people in this age group are due to heart conditions.

During the last 15 years the American Heart Association has raised and spent almost $90 million in research on the heart, almost 40 per cent of all the money that has been raised by this voluntary agency. Of the remainder, much has been spent on educating the public about heart disease; some in developing organization; and some on fund raising itself.

Over 60 per cent of men and women who suffer a sudden acute heart attack recover. Four out of five who recover resume normal living and return to work. The time is too soon for long-range estimates as to just how many added years of life have been gained by the application of the new methods of study and treatment. Many people who have had a coronary obstruction find their lives thereafter quite enjoyable. The heart attack brings to them the need for learning proper habits.

From the time when William Withering discovered digitalis, the number of remedies available for treatment of conditions affecting the heart has grown tremendously. The drugs available in 1910 have been greatly enhanced by the antibiotic drugs, the products of the glands of internal secretion, the antihypertensive drugs, new types of sedation, and salicylates, also the anti-coagulant drugs.

The physician must be aware of all of these drugs and the conditions under which they are best used and equally aware of what medicine calls the contraindications - the conditions in which the drugs may do harm rather than good. The screening of drugs of this type in relationship to the diseases concerned is a considerable portion of the research sponsored, paid for, and performed under the auspices of the American Heart Association and its various affiliates.

JUNIOR GRANGE MEETING

Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange held its first fall meeting Friday night with the worthy master Doris Fearing presiding.

Susan Silva, chairman of the Home and Community Service Committee, gave her report for work done during the year. She and her committee have accomplished much, and completed requirements of both the State and National Granges. Worthy master Doris Fearing reported on the Junior Penny Fair and thanked all who helped her.

A beautiful pillow, donated by Mrs. Albert Pemberton to the Juniors, was awarded to Mrs. Howard Bates.

After the business meeting games were enjoyed with Mrs. Mary Messier of Marion assisting. Refreshments were served by the
